F&H has renovated many chapter houses and added cost effective and cost efficient heating and cooling.

F&H's expertise in ductless mini-split systems can potentially save tens of thousands of dollars and make local house corporations a more attractive offering for their members. In addition, on-demand indirect hot water heating systems that F&H has specs on can provide endless amounts of hot water while cutting down on cost when compared to traditional hot water systems.

Disclaimer: These services are available for house corporations to use or to subscribe to as described. The decision to use or not is solely that of the chapter house corporation. There is no implied or explicit benefit derived by F&H for the use of these services, except that the collective use by all house corporations may, over time, increase the amount of the discount.

F&H will continue to look for opportunities to develop and offer discount programs to the community of house corporations.
